

Hanifah Khan

---

khanhanifah@gmail.com
(347)458-7579

Objective

To obtain a successful career in technology, in a challenging environment to encourage professional growth and promote mastery of the field.

Education

The City University of New York (CUNY), York College
Bachelor of Science in Computer Science, May 2017

Queens, NY
GPA: 3.2

Coursework Completed

|                     |                                 |                             |
|---------------------|---------------------------------|-----------------------------|
| Intro to Computing  | Principles of Programming Langs | Computer Architecture       |
| Data Structure I/II | Assembly Language Programming   | Object-Oriented Programming |
| Operating Systems   | Automata and Computability      | Computer Graphics           |

Experience

United States Department of Agriculture (USDA)

Intern – Software Development (Quality Assurance)

Riverdale, MD

June 2017- Sept. 2017

- Experience running test cases, scenarios, and user stories
- Exposed to agile development methods and the defect life cycle
- Observed aspects of the development cycle from both client and developer standpoints
- Introduced to Jira and its applications in project management
- Took part in UAT testing sessions

Ideal Logistics

Junior Database Manager

New York, NY

2015- June 2017

- Daily update of deliveries in online database
- Locate and correct data entry errors, or report them to supervisors
- Compile task spreadsheets with information pulled from databases

Personal Skills

Leadership

- Acted as secretary of the Muslim Students Association (MSA) at York College; helping to plan events, and manage the association.

Determination

- Completed a B.S. in Computer Science in May 2017, at an accelerated pace having started at 16 years old.

Activities

Coding | York College Coding Club

Member, Coding Club, York College

Leadership | National Young Leadership Conference

Proud attendee of “The National Young Leadership Conference” in Washington D.C.